The Gerbera Disk is the ultimate growth tool for growing gerberas. It has been designed for easy media management in the greenhouse including installation and overall growth. The disk itself is easy to install. Simply place the disk in the bottom of the empty pot, place irrigation dripper on the disk, irrigate with standard fertilised water, leave saturated for 24hrs and then plant the young gerbera into the material.

Because the material is buffered with Calcium and Magnesium, the Electrical Conductivity (EC) remains low and salts do not accumulate within the media. Fertilisation can therefore be started right away and there is no need for flushing the material prior to use. The disk is management friendly and easy to use. Extra technical advice is also available from our technical consultants in Holland. Overall the media used in the Gerbera Disk is high quality and consistent leading to higher quality plants and flowers.
