Gerbera Disk

Profit Coir material is an excellent substrate for growing commercial vegetable and flower crops for plants that do not like wet feet. The coarser material provides a media that has a much higher proportion of air compared to Classic Coir. To aid the steering ability of the media Profit Coir is buffered with a Calcium and Magnesium solution which helps prevent Potassium and Sodium levels building up in the media. Profit Coir material is a very stable product. Since it contains a high proportion of coir fibres the material can easily last for two seasons decreasing the costs of growing the crop.

A variety of product sizes are available from the 4.5 kg bale to specialised slabs and Gerbera Disks. All products are light and easy to handle and re-hydration is simple. Technical advice is available for this product from our technical consultants in Holland.
